gat, for he certainly does a lot of list of things not according to the trotting ciation. Hoyle, but he is a tough proposition Knight to beat in a race. There were fifteen horses in the event, and some of them pretty limber propositions, but the rugged chesinut took care of them, 2000, runged chestnut took care of them, knocking his record down to 2:00 % in the final heat.

Jack K. is by Silver Finch, and another of the same tribe. Tommy Finch, is garnering first moneys on half-mile tracks in the West.

John McQuaig, who comes up from Oklahoma every year, has everybody taiking who was at the Minnesota State Fair, where he put brackets around the names of a couple of ten-wear-old steeds. On the first day he won two heats with Alice Arion, and then lost the race to Sis Bing, but later in the week he came back with her and won the Minnesofts Stake, which is premier among classics of the Northwest. In this race he beat Tommy Finch Eva Bingen and others. The feature of jit was the return of Alice Arion to the winners' list after she had been pussed up by the majority. This is her fifth campaign.

The other winner of the McQuaic.

Big Field in Transylvania

Among the stakes that have been in the amelight a long while is the Iran-sylvania, which has topnotch position among the all aged events at Lexing-ton, where they trot next week. Also this is the only real stake, the nomina-tors sending in their names in June and having the right to lisnose of their clance or name their horses in Sep-tember. Horses that are eligible to the Transvivania are Prince Lorce, Remaie Del, Wilkes Brewer, Ima Jay, Heir Rearet, Brissac, Esperanta, Iess B., Binland, Royal Blue, Busy's Lussie, The Royal Knight, Attaa Forbes and Lotto Watts.

The Royal Abraham Lotto Watts.

On recent performances Frince Loree stands out in this field, but he will have to be right and ready to dispuse of lima Jav Pinland Pinkis Lassie. The twin heaver. The Royal Knight and Wilker Brower. The absence of Chilcoot from this stake should improve the race. The Canalian horse was eligible, but Murnhy has him in the Walnut Hahl Tup, and perhaps his owner. Mrs. Parns, of Ter nto, desires this splendid piece of plate more than she does the inference in

Bin'and, that is in the Transvivania had a clean score of victories until beaten by Royal Mac on a muldy track

There were several late applications for nominations in the Transylvania, among them that of J. L. Dodge, who wanted to start his three-year-old Hollyrood Bob, against this herd of veterans, but was too late.

Any drastically severe measures imposed on racing in Ireland would be serious, if not disastrous, and would be stoutly opposed, because horse breeding and agriculture, which are closely allied, will in future represent the essence of that country's properity.

At the moment Ireland is a land of plenty, if not exactly of peace ineffable. Few who visit it would imagine that there is a grim and ghastly war being bitterly fought out on the Western front of Europe. Verily, we are living in strange times. While there is no lack of racing in Ireland, the past menth in England was a complete blank, a condition entirely different from the custom of former years. Now we shall have to possess our souls till the Newmarket third extra this month, a fixture which is but a poor
